Dear Mayor Watson and Members of Council,

We are aware of an email being circulated that threatens violence against some members of Council and other city officials.

The email titled A Bullet in Your Head, has been distributed broadly from the same sender, with the same message.

We are aware of these threats and we are investigating. At this time, forensics has tracked the location of the sender to outside of Canada.

We know this information is difficult to receive and troubling to you, your families and staff. Please know that your safety is of utmost importance.

Please keep in contact with us if you need support, receive any more threats like these or would seek information.

We take all incidents of threats seriously.

If you have further questions or concerns, please reach out to Inspector John Mbakulo at 613-222-8246 or 613-236-1222 extension 5564.

Subject: Update on our demonstration efforts

Dear Council colleagues,

I wanted to provide you with a quick update on the engagement I have had with our federal and provincial partners this week, as well as other stakeholders, regarding the occupation of our downtown core by the convoy.

As you know, I had a productive discussion with Prime Minister Trudeau on Monday. He assured me that the federal government would be there to provide resources and support the efforts of our OPS officers on the ground. This aligns with similar discussions that Chief Sloly has had with RCMP Commissioner Brenda Lucki, who has so far supplemented the federal authority's presence as requested.

I have also had constructive discussions with provincial Minister of Finance Peter Bethlenfalvy, as well as the federal President of the Treasury Board Mona Fortier, regarding supports for our businesses and employees whose livelihoods are being severely impacted each and every day that this occupation continues. They have both been receptive to my plea and their teams are actively assessing what can be done to help.

In the last hour, I had a very good discussion with federal Public Safety Minister Marco Mendicino, where I reiterated our City's call for additional resources to support our officers responding to this demonstration on the ground. He assured me that our request for assistance was being given the highest consideration by Commissioner Lucki, and he offered his ongoing support until we see an end to the occupation.

A number of colleagues have suggested to me, and I have agreed, that a Special Council meeting be called to discuss the impact of the truck convoy demonstration on our residents and businesses. The Clerk will be issuing a Notice of Special meeting before the weekend for the meeting to be held at 1pm on Monday, February 7. As the situation remains fluid, times are subject to change based on the availability of officials.

I trust this information is helpful. I will aim to keep you apprised of our other engagement efforts as they evolve in the coming days.

Sincerely,

Jim Watson
Mayor

Dear Mayor and Members of Council,

Earlier this week we reached out to you about an email threat that was being sent broadly to various City officials, titled "Bullet in your head."

We wanted to let you know that we are actively investigating this incident and require some assistance from you.

We are working with United States law enforcement agencies to track down the sender of these emails. We have been advised that this person does not live in Canada.

Action Required Today: We ask that anyone who has received this email, whether council or staff, send us the original email with its email headers. This investigation is currently underway and we need this information immediately.

To obtain those email headers, open the email and click on "FILE" at the top left of the email itself.

Then click on Properties at bottom right.

This will give you a screen that shows Internet Headers.

Subject: OPS Requirements

Unclassified

Mayor,

Based on the current state of operations and after careful assessment of the ongoing resourcing gaps, the Ottawa Police Service (OPS) is requesting the following immediate resource requirements needed to manage the ongoing illegal demonstration in Ottawa.

As the police of jurisdiction, the OPS requires the integration of all requested resources (sworn and civilian) into the OPS incident command structure.

In addition, the OPS will enter into formal agreements with the supporting organisations to support and facilitate this request and will include associated compensation and entitlement details.

We require one hundred percent cost recovery for all resources.

The below tables provide the high-level details of our requirements.

Subject: Motion passed by City Council re: RCMP

Unclassified

Unclassified

Dear Mayor Watson and Chair Deans:

I am writing further to yesterday's Special Council meeting wherein the motion of Councillor McKenney regarding the "parliamentary precinct" was passed by City Council.

In Ontario, policing is governed by the Police Services Act. In accordance with s. 5(1)1 of the Police Services Act, the City of Ottawa has discharged its responsibility to provide police services by establishing a police force—the Ottawa Police Service. As a result, the Ottawa Police Service is the sole police service of jurisdiction. It is important to note that the Police Services Act defines "police force" as either the Ontario Provincial Police or a municipal police force. The Ottawa Police Service maintains that Councillor McKenney's motion is absent jurisdictional authority where it intends for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to assume command of the response to the ongoing demonstration in the City of Ottawa.

In addition, the Police Services Act, as well as O. Reg. 421/97, stipulates that the Chief of Police is responsible for the police service's operational decisions, responsibilities, and day-to-day operations. Where Councillor McKenney's motion intends for Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers to be integrated into the response to the demonstration within the command structure of the Ottawa Police Service, it should be noted that the Chief of Police of the Ottawa Police Service would maintain responsibility for operational decision-making, including where and how any Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers are deployed. Although any deployment of officers will be under the direction of the Chief of Police as an operational consideration, the Ottawa Police Service will make every attempt to meet the spirit of the motion and have Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers work in and around the hardened area of the demonstration.

The Ottawa Police Service looks forward to continuing to collaborate with the Board and City Council to effectively respond to the ongoing demonstrations and to ensure peace and safety in our community.

Sincerely,

ps
